Munsing Underwear

There is more Munsing Underwear sold than of any other one make in the United States. There is a reason for this. It's the only double pleated seamed underwear on the market. It fits as no other underwear can for the simple reason that it is made different, and while other kinds have suffered in either quality or price on account of strikes and sharp advance on all cotton and wool yarns. The Munsing is better for the price asked than ever before. If you have used Munsing Underwear you well know why we are so strongly in favor of this particular make.

Munsing Underwear

The Munsing Underwear displayed in our window today will give an idea as to how it looks. Its best features are its fit and wearing qualities.

Children's Wool Vests and Pants, all sizes, same price—50c each.

Children's Munsing Union Suits in heavy cotton at 50c per garment and wool at $1.00 each, and there is no union suit at these prices that can compare with them.

Ladies' Bleached Vests and Pants in fine fleeced at 50c each.

Ladies' White and Natural Wool Vests and Pants in Munsing at $1.00 each.

Ladies' Bleached Union Suits at $1.00 each.

Ladies' light weight and medium weight for early fall in this Munsing make.

We have several grades of Munsing Union Suits in gray that we have put on our bargain table at half price: a $3.50 Suit for 75c; a $2.25 Suit for $1.13; a $2.50 Suit for $1.25. Grays are taken out on account of so many using pure white. Grays wear better and last longer. If your kind is here, it is a bargain.

PARDON IS SOUGHT

For Eugene Sargood Now in Vermont State Prison.

Bennington, Sept. 21.—State's Attorney W. J. Meagher has gone to Windsor to appear in behalf of the state on an application for a pardon in behalf of Eugene Sargood of Arlington, now under heavy sentence for three separate offences at the state prison.

Sargood was sentenced in September, 1904, to three and one-half years for poisoning stock in Arlington, to five years for perjury and to seven years for attempting to poison Sanford Hicks and his wife, Carrie Hicks, residents of Arlington.

The three cases were all taken to the supreme court on exceptions by the defence after long trials in Bennington county court and the case for perjury was remanded, but never tried. At the expiration of his first sentence, James K. Batchelder of Arlington, Sargood's attorney, brought proceedings on the ground that inasmuch as the second offence had never been decided against his client, Sargood was being detained at the state prison illegally. The cause was heard before the United States court and no decision has as yet been returned by the presiding judge.

The latest move to secure Sargood's release is through a petition for a pardon. The petition has been circulated in Arlington and in other towns in the northern section of the county and has been largely signed.

Charles A. Maurer of this village will appear for Sargood at the hearing to be held before Governor Proouty at Windsor.
